PICKING THE CHRISTMAS TREE

Bill Stoner, of Fayetteville, drags a Christmas tree he cut down with his wife, Jean, at Seven Springs Tree Farm in Cashtown on Saturday. The Stoners said they were going to decorate the tree that afternoon, but added they always keep their Christmas tree outside because of the wood stove in their home. At top, Stoner uses a handsaw to cut down the tree. At right, shoppers wander the 50-acre farm, looking for the perfect tree for this holiday season.
